

How to Change the World

Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed people can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has.

- Margaret Mead

Key Takeaway

It is difficult to articulate an unclear vision to others. To clarify and solidify your vision, write it down. Share your statement with others and ask for feedback. Great leaders are always using feedback to improve themselves and their work.

Look inside yourself

Before you can use your vision to change the world, you need to be clear on what the vision is. Consider these key questions:

- What needs do you see in your community?
- What strengths do you bring?
- What are your key talents?
- Why do you want to lead?

Assemble your team

Exercising leadership means building teams. A good team will integrate all four leadership intelligences to help you realize your vision:

- Visionary
- Strategic
- Tactical
- Logistical

Inspire everyone to participate and bring their best to the table. Dream together, work together, achieve together and succeed together.

Leadership in Action:

- Write down your vision
- Ask for feedback from others
- Build a complementary team

For more insight into leadership,
connect with us on Twitter:
www.twitter.com/leadconn